

CANADIAN FEDERATION
OF INDEPENDENT BUSINESS

In business for your business

HUMAN RESOURCES FROM A TO Z: CFIB BUSINESS RESOURCES IS HERE FOR YOU

Attendance policy help
Boxing Day—Is it a holiday?
Code of Conduct for employees
Disciplinary procedures
Employee contract template
Foreign workers
Guide to Employment Standards
Hiring for the 1st time?
Interns
Job description template
Keeping employee records
Letter of offer sample
Maternity leave

New employee orientation
Occupational Health & Safety
Privacy Policy template
Questions for interviews
Reducing termination exposure
Social media policy template
Training employees for success
Underage employees—What to know
Violence in the workplace
Worker injury claims
X-it Interviews
Youth employment
Zero tolerance—harassment

PUT HR POLICIES IN PLACE THAT WILL PROTECT YOU AND YOUR BUSINESS.

Having employees can be rewarding but also complicated. CFIB Business Resources can take some of the mystery out of working with employees and the laws governing these relationships. We can provide samples, tips, tools and links to make it easier for you to become a great employer, regardless of the size of your business.

ARE YOU UNSURE HOW TO HANDLE EMPLOYEES WHO CALL IN SICK?

Would you like a written policy and procedures to help your business have the best attendance record? Do you know your basic obligations under employment law? Perhaps your workplace could benefit from written policies and procedures? We have a sample policy, sample disciplinary letter and advice on how to set your business up for success. Build accountability and reliability into your company's team.

DO ALL OF YOUR EMPLOYEES KNOW THEIR KEY RESPONSIBILITIES?

A business owner can get frustrated if employees "just aren't doing their job", but is your communication clear about what those key responsibilities really are? Do you have a written job description for your key positions? We can help with a sample job description form, recommended language and questions to help you complete this task most efficiently. A job description can help your employees complete their job requirements.

HAVE YOU CLEARLY COMMUNICATED TO ALL EMPLOYEES WHAT CONSTITUTES ACCEPTABLE BEHAVIOUR IN YOUR WORKPLACE?

An employee code of conduct is a written expectation of acceptable employee behaviour in the workplace. This document informs employees about what is an acceptable standard of conduct in relationship to vendors, customers and other employees. We have a sample you can customize.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT YOUR EMPLOYEES ARE SAYING ABOUT YOUR BUSINESS ON SOCIAL MEDIA?

Many of your employees are on Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn and YouTube, along with dozens of other social media channels. Is social media hurting or helping your business? Learn what you can do to encourage your employees to make this a positive experience for them and for your business, or, at the very least, reduce the risk of any negative impact. CFIB has a sample social media policy that will help you navigate this complex issue with employees.

ARE YOU THINKING OF HIRING YOUR FIRST EMPLOYEE?

Know what you must do to meet all your employment obligations. For example, do you need to register for worker's compensation? What do you need to do to meet your payroll tax obligations and how do you get set up properly as an employer? Sample letters, hiring checklists, and links to register your business payroll are all available to you from Business Resources.

OTHER HR TOOLS CFIB CAN HELP YOU DEVELOP:

- Confidentiality agreement
- Disciplinary letters
- Employee contract templates
- Formal job offers
- Harassment policy
- Health & Safety guide
- Hiring and interview tips
- Termination letters

The services of a good lawyer and accountant are invaluable. We will be sure to point you in the right direction should the circumstances warrant.

Get in touch.

We're here to help.

Any questions? Call our business counsellors today.

1-888-234-2232 or cfib@cfib.ca

Legal Notice: This publication and its contents are for the members of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business ("CFIB") only, and are not intended for any other recipient. The contents of this publication are for informational purposes and the CFIB does not warrant the accuracy, currency or suitability of any of the information provided herein. Before acting on the basis of any information contained in this publication, please seek the advice of your professional advisors.